Champagne

NV Piper-Heidsieck Essentiel Extra Brut, Champagne, France

Champagne, located in the north of France, with its cool climate and chalky soil, is home to the world's most famous sparkling wines. Founded in 1785, Piper-Heidsieck is one of the oldest and best-known Champagne Houses. In 2011 it was purchased by the Descours family and has been on an impressive quality trajectory ever since. Today the winemaking is overseen by young and dynamic "chef de cave" Emilien Boutillat. Essentiel is a classic multi-vintage blend of Pinot Noir, Pinot Meunier and Chardonnay, almost 20% of the Essentiel blend is made up of older reserve wines which give the wine more complexity, richness and maturity yet still remaining fresh and bright. A famous Champagne House in full Renaissance mode.

2021 Loosen Bros. Dr. L Riesling, Mosel, Germany

I was standing in the Bernkastel vineyards with Ernie Loosen in late September 2021, under a gloomy sky. He looked glum. The summer had been poor. The grapes were struggling to ripen on the vine. "If we can just get a month's sun, we'll make good classic Mosel riesling", he said. Which is exactly what they got. You don't want too much heat or sun to make divine Mosel Riesling, and the most mouthwatering wines often come from less than perfect years. 2021 is a great example. This wine has an uplifting scent of fresh-picked pears and green apples, and a crisp, prickly brightness on your tongue. Not quite dry, it is bursting with the juicy acid fruit of apple flesh sprinkled with lemon and rubbed with vineyard slate.

2021 Joseph Drouhin Saint-Véran, Burgundy, France

Joseph Drouhin is a renowned family-owned producer founded in 1880 with 78-hectares of vineyards extending from Chablis in the north, to vineyards in the south like this Saint-Véran. Planted on limestone soils, the vines at Saint-Véran enjoy the sunshine of one of the southern-most regions in Burgundy while still retaining its freshness and tension. Veronique Drouhin, the fourth-generation family member to craft the wines, is superbly talented and balances purity, beautiful, lifted flavour expression from both their white and red wines. This Saint-Véran is juicy, fresh, filled with pear and apricot flavours and delicious to enjoy now.

2019 Château La Cardonne, Bordeaux, France

Château La Cardonne rose to prominence because it was owned by the Rothschilds of Château Lafite, arguably Bordeaux's most famous wine. Some of Lafite's elegance was supposed to have rubbed off on La Cardonne. The Château is now owned by the Chinese Huang family and very much stands on its own two feet. The vineyards are in Blaignan, on the highest gravel plateau of the northern Medoc, and with star properties Potensac and Tour Haut Caussan as neighbours. La Cardonne also has a vast underground ageing cellar called the Cathedral, big enough to contain 10 vintages, so they only release the wine when they are sure it is ready. This 2019 is just opening out in a classic way, lightly touched by oak spice, but dominated by dark plum fruit, the earthiness of gravel soil, and the beginnings of beguiling cedarwood scent.

2021 Teusner Wark Family Shiraz, Australia

The Barossa north of Adelaide is Australia's most famous wine region. The climate here is warm, dry and well suited to red grape varieties – particularly Shiraz. Teusner is an exciting partnership between Kym Teusner and Mick Page the cornerstone of which is a reverence for low yielding, old, dry grown vines. The Wark Family first planted Shiraz at their Stonewell farm in 1995. And whilst not as old as some Barossa vineyards, this special site produces archetypal Barossa Shiraz of great flavors and balance. This single vineyard wine is spicy and bright with good intensity and ripeness coupled with soft tannins and freshness. An excellent example of modern Barossa Shiraz.

2020 Alvaro Palacios Remondo, Spain

Alvaro Palacios made himself world famous with his remarkable Priorat reds from Catalunya. But he's a family man, one of 9 children, and when the call came, he went back to run his family estate on the high slopes of the Yerga Mountains in eastern Rioja. The earliest evidence of winemaking at the estate goes back to 1615, but Alvaro has a very modern approach, emphasising bright, fresh flavours, just lightly touched with soft oak, and his vines grow on cool, breezy slopes, facing away from the sun. So, his 2020, from a vintage which wasn't easy in most of Rioja due to high temperatures and high rainfall, massively benefitted from the cool vineyard site. This Remondo, with a significant proportion of Garnacha grapes from old bush vines, is positively gentle and mellow, with a warm, ripe fruit style, appetisingly fresh, yet with a delightful dusty, savoury quality.

Kopke 10 years

Making great tawny port is a time-consuming business. Port wine that starts life fiery and purple and aggressive must be gently softened and mellowed, the rough edges smoothed away, the fire replaced by warmth, the purple slowly lightened to russet and chestnut and amber. All this happens in old barrels placed in dark cool cellars and barely disturbed for years. Well, Kopke have had enough practice. They are the oldest Port house in existence, being founded in 1638. This lovely wine is positively rich, but blends a heady, raising warmth with the freshness of rosehip and red cherries. Kopke have won Trophies at the International Wine Challenge, the International Wine and Spirit Competition and the Decanter World Wine Awards

In-house Tea Selection

Chinese Tea

Oolong Tea

A traditional tea produced through a process of sun-drying the leaves to prevent brittleness in the process of twisting and rolling them. This is a smooth tea with a distinctive fragrance of orchids, pairing well with most dishes.

Pu-Erh

Pu-erh, akin to fine wine, gets better with age. The leaves are grown and harvested in Yunnan province, then compressed and sundried through an exquisite and complex fermentation process, resulting in its earthy fragrance. This black tea is best enjoyed after a hearty meal.

Tie Guan Yin

Fondly remembered for its fragrant orchid aroma, this oolong tea cultivar from the Tang dynasty is the most famous Chinese oolong tea. First discovered in Anxi, Fujian, the region's distinctive red soil is integral to producing the unique fresh and light flavour of the tea. This tea pairs well with most oriental dishes.

Mao Feng

One of the most famous teas from China, Mao Feng hails from the Yellow Mountain in Anhui province, where the humid climate is the perfect condition for producing this exquisite tea. Only unbroken buds and leaves are processed, creating a rich and sweet tea with a strong floral fragrance. This green tea pairs well with seafood dishes.

Asian Tea *

Sencha Green Tea

Japanese green tea with a delicate aroma and a fresh, clean taste.

Indian Masala Tea

Fragrant traditional Indian herb tea with a hint of spice.

 Available hot or with ice*

Herbal Infusions

Peppermint Tea

A natural caffeine-free brew with a refreshingly fragrant taste. The healing powers of peppermint help relieve nervous tension, ease stomach ailments, alleviate insomnia and aid weight loss.

Ginger & Honey Tea

An aromatic combination with a prominent honey note tempered with spicy ginger. Fragrant, slightly sweet and spicy. A lively tea.
